

Goshen Open Studio tour

A self-guided tour of the arts in Goshen

Friday, November 5, 2010
5 - 9 p.m.

Discover the creative arts that are part of the Goshen community!

Goshen Center for the Arts

113½ E. Lincoln Avenue

The Goshen Center for the Arts provides local artists affordable studio spaces in the downtown district of Goshen. We offer the local arts community a place to network and collaborate in an effort to strengthen the arts all around us.

Gaining Grounds

114 E. Lincoln Avenue

The Gaining Grounds shop exhibits the creative vision of adults living with a developmental disability who have shown interest and talent for artistic expression.

Cyd Gallery (the loft)

123 S. Main Street, Suite 101

The loft above T.G. Music features boutique style, portrait photography by Cyd, along with work by William Jensen, a watercolor artists from Granger, and Kathleen Kiesselbach, a well-versed printmaking artist from Niles.

Graber Designs Gallery

208 S. Main Street

Paintings, pottery, and books by six Graber women – three generations of family artists, plus the art of Karen Jacob. Jacob is a South Bend artist who uses the gallery as her studio for painting and jewelry-making. The family art and Karen Jacob art are supplemented with art and antiques from around the world.

Goshen Theater

An evening of performance art, 216 S. Main Street

5:30 - 6:30 p.m. • The Greencroft Evergreen Singers

6:30 - 7:00 p.m. • Spacious Heart Yoga demonstration

7:00 - 7:45 p.m. • Troupe Raqs Shuvani Middle Eastern Dance

8:00 - 9:30 p.m. • Frequency Theater

Eric Strader Pottery

314 S. Main Street (behind the Maple City Market)

Eric's love for clay began as a child, when he spent many hours in his grandfather's pottery studio. Since 1995 he has been making pots that include functional pottery as well as one-of-a-kind pieces. Each pot is wheel thrown and safe for oven, microwave, and dishwasher use.

Clay Art Guild

212 W. Washington Street

Check out the giant fall pottery sale of work by Clay Guild members!

w.harder studio

212 W. Washington Street, Suite 5

Wilma's hand-fabricated jewelry uses 14 karat gold, sterling silver, brass, copper, and semi-precious stones.

Goshen Painters' Guild

212 W. Washington Street, Suite 16

The Painters' Guild exhibit features new paintings in watercolor, acrylic and oil by guild members. Styles and content vary according to each artist.

Dave Pottinger Open House

Special November First Fridays event, 135 S. Main Street

Please join LaCasa, Inc. to celebrate arts advocate and resident leader Dave Pottinger's prestigious "Dorothy Richardson" resident leadership award from NeighborWorks America. YOUR support put Goshen in the national spotlight, so come share in the fun! Special presentation at 7 p.m.

Hosted by

DOWNTOWN GOSHEN, INC.

www.cityonthego.org

The Goshen Theater

eyedart
studio